Highwater clays:

Loafers Glory ^7-10 Very popular porcelain-like clay with the attitude of a stoneware. It is very smooth, a joy to throw and takes glazes extremely well. No grog

Moon white ^7-10 A very smooth, light firing, dreamy clay to throw. Contains 12% super fine kyanite for strength

Half and Half ^7-10 Half Phoenix - Half P10. The best of both. A porcelain-like clay with a hint of tooth. Great for throwing.

Laguna Clays:

602 #40 Dark buff firing clay. Versatile, medium textured throwing body.

606 #50 Stoneware favorite. Light sand color with fine specks. Excellent cone 6 throwing body which enhances glaze colors and effects. There is no better all around throwing body available for the stoneware look. Fine speckling shows through glazes enhancing the piece.

616 #15 Translucent porcelain. An excellent grolleg body for throwing thin pieces

Frost Porcelain An exceptionally white and translucent throwing porcelain for Cone 5-6.

Speckle Buff Clay body specifically formulated by request from Midwest and Eastern U.S. potters. Low in sand and grog content, speckled buff is smooth textured. An excellent throwing body. The color palette is perhaps best described as 'desert' or 'Southwest'. Fired in oxidation, Speckled Buff falls into the tan/brown color range.
